“This isn’t your grandfather’s Ribbon Blender.”

With engineering and manufacturing teams working at eight plants on three continents, Ross has taken Ribbon Blender design far beyond anything you’ve seen before in a traditional blender.

And we’re not finished. From our most basic paddle blender to our most advanced sanitary Ribbon Blender with multi-axis controls, our engineers are continuously improving our blenders – making them even more versatile, easier to maintain and more productive.

Ross Ribbon Blenders are engineered to make cleaning easy, minimize the risk of contamination and optimize production.
